Decades of studies show that muscle pumping improves circulation and the vascular pressure in bone needed to aid bone and immune cell growth.

Prof. Ken McLeod says “Surprisingly, little of this knowledge base has been translated to clinical medicine which would create improvements in the prevention and treatment of bone adaptation problems such as osteopenia and osteoporosis”

Medical Professionals largely treat osteoporosis with bone growth blocking drugs such as bisphosphonates. Not only do we encourage bone growth through high speed oscillation/vibration therapy, but as all the cells of the immune system stem from stem cells in bone marrow, we help rehabilitate the immune system when we improve bone cell fluid flow.

High speed, professional quality oscillating/vibrating machines that are fast and strong enough to drive up the vascular pressure in bone to create an even distribution of bone cell fluid flow throughout the bone matrix are now proven beyond all doubt to be the most important tool of the future for preventing immune disease and osteoporosis.

Natural methods of stimulating the systems that have slowed down to promote faster lymph, blood, nerve, hormonal and spinal fluid flow is today our major ally in rehabilitation for getting health back on track naturally.

And as you'll read, often natural stimulation of the systems that circulate is far more potent than pharmaceutical intervention.

I hope that even if you find your beliefs challenged as the sports doctor back home did, you still enjoy the benefits this book offers in an open manner... all too many of us die prematurely through denial.

Francis.
